

Liquidation Services

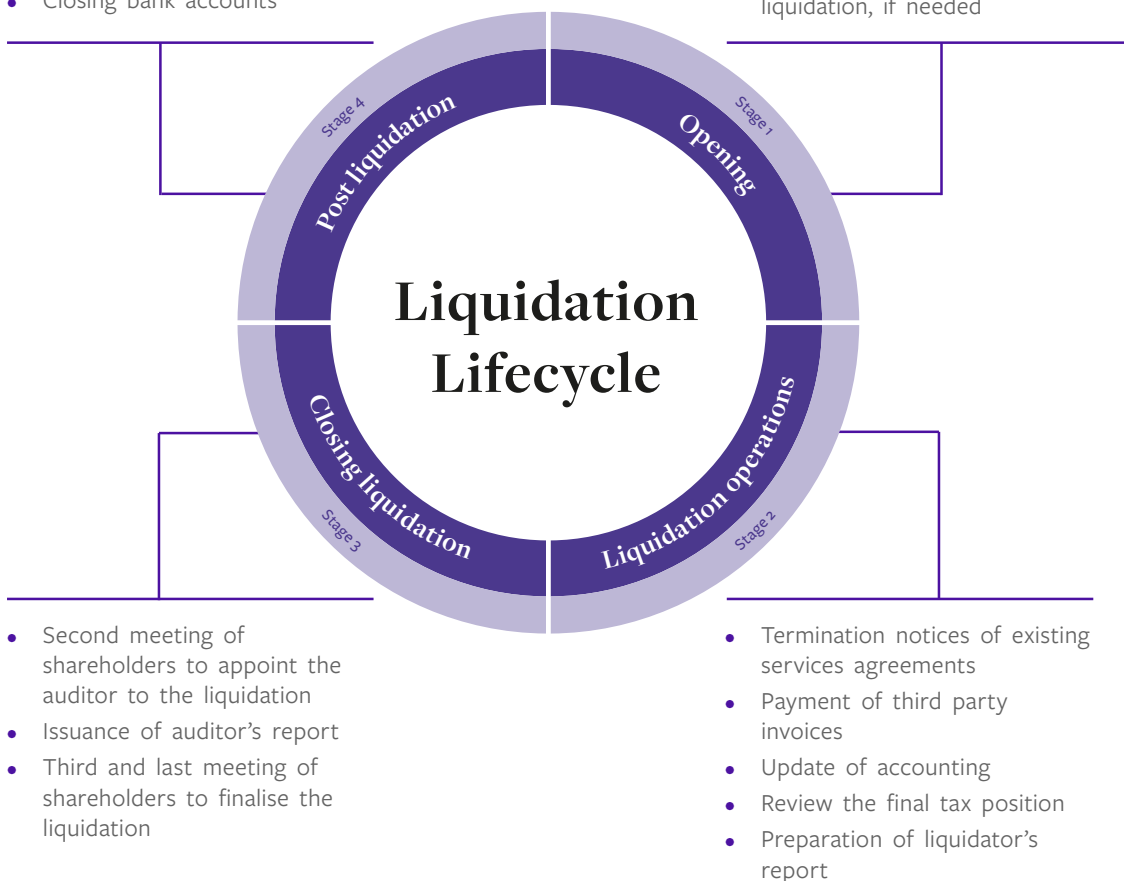

Introduction

There are several reasons that can lead to voluntary liquidations, all of them involving operational and regulatory challenges. Your fund may have reached its maturity, you have sold your investment, legislation has changed or you would like to reduce costs by simplifying your structure and liquidating dormant companies. The IQ-EQ Liquidation Services Team is comprised of qualified experts providing responsive and pragmatic support throughout the liquidation process from preparation to closure.

Support throughout the liquidation lifecycle

- Assistance for all filings
- Preparation and filing of final tax returns
- Payment of any outstanding invoices
- Final distribution to shareholders
- Closing bank accounts

- Meeting of shareholders in the presence of a Luxembourg notary, resolving to put the company into voluntary liquidation
- Filing of intent to liquidate
- Update bank account powers
- Resolution of the liquidator to proceed to the first stage of liquidation, if needed

Liaising with third parties

A liquidation process can involve many parties. Therefore, centralised communication is the key to an efficient and smooth liquidation process. Our team of liquidation experts have experience in managing communications with all parties involved throughout the liquidation process. Whether we act as an independent third party liquidator or assist the appointed liquidator, we can provide a central point of contact for all the stakeholders.

“We have a liquidator’s mandate for regulated and non-regulated entities. In 2018 we supported over 150 liquidations.”
