

Financial Promotions Compliance Support

Introduction

At IQ-EQ, we understand the ever-changing landscape of financial promotions globally, with increasing guidance on new forms of communications, such as social media and podcasts, and the increased focus by regulators on ESG matters and anti-greenwashing.

We recognise the importance of assisting you in meeting your regulatory obligations. We offer expertise in developing and integrating practices and controls, mitigating the risks posed by financial promotions to your business in accordance with jurisdictional regulations and industry best practices.

Financial promotion compliance services provided by IQ-EQ are designed to assist financial institutions in navigating the complex and evolving landscape of regulatory requirements.

Firms making claims surrounding ESG, and particularly sustainability-related claims, are facing a large overhaul of the financial promotion and greenwashing rules, specifically in how those apply to the alternatives investments sector. The new SDR labelling regime will restrict the labelling of funds unless they are registered using one of the FCA's new sustainability labels. This means further rules and disclosure obligations. Alongside the labelling regime, the new anti-greenwashing rule is set to take effect from 31 May 2024 and will apply to all firms that make sustainability references, requiring all such references to be fair, clear and not misleading, and proportionate to the sustainability profile of the product or service.

Financial promotions has been an area of focus for the FCA in the last 18 months, and we expect that to continue, following a number of regulatory changes, including:

- The announcement of the anti-greenwashing rule along with the introduction of the SDR labelling rules
- Financial Promotions Gateway
- New requirements for promoting high-risk investments to retail investors
- FCA consulted on potential updates to its social media guidance in 2023, along with providing guidance in collaboration with the ASA for 'Fin-fluencers' on social media
- New financial promotions regime for cryptoasset firms

We seek to understand each firm we partner with, so we can effectively assist you in the development and integration of financial promotion procedures and best practice in line with jurisdictional regulations, while keeping pace with the latest regulatory and enforcement trends.

How we can help

In light of the recent changes, we have created a financial promotion review service that is designed to assess a firm's systems and controls across its client communications.

Key features and benefits:

1. Tailored solution: Our services are tailored to the specific needs and size of your institution, whether you are a small financial firm or a large institution with a diverse range of financial products and services. The scope of the service can be tailored to cover the highest risk areas or to have a broader focus across all areas of financial promotion risk. Our review methodology allows us to RAG-rate all applicable regulatory requirements for the following areas: anti-greenwashing; SDR; SFDR; COBS
2. Risk-based approach: Our process will enable your firm to identify areas of higher risk and those which may need remedial action
3. Training and education: Equip your staff with the knowledge and skills required to understand the increasingly important impact of ESG on marketing, including greenwashing and green bleaching, as well as broader impact of SDR and SFDR
